Weddings Styles

Western Wedding Ceremony (Non-Religious)

Our western wedding ceremony includes a traditional program with the blessing, vows and ring exchange led by the Master of Ceremony, at the bride and groom's preference. The weddings at Rawi Warin usually begin in early afternoon or dusk towards the evening including the wedding reception.

Thai Wedding Ceremony (Buddhist or Non-Religious)

In the traditional way with either a Rod Nam Ceremony or a Buddhist monk blessing. For the complete experience, you can even have both.

• Rod Nam Ceremony

This ceremony is begin with Sai Mongkol Ceremony, is believed to unite the couple's souls. This is then followed by a water blessing or Rod Nam Ceremony, in which guests pour sacred water from a holy conch shell on to the bride and groom hands.

• Buddhist Monks Blessing Ceremony

In additional to the Tradition Thai Ceremony, couples can choose to offer food and other daily necessities, the monks return their blessing for a happy and long lasting union.

** REMARK: Thai Wedding Ceremony is held usually in the morning time before 10 AM.
